

Take Your Institution to Higher Levels

with the Association of Deans & Directors of University Colleges and Undergraduate Studies

Become a member of the Association of Deans and Directors of University Colleges and Undergraduate Studies (AD&D) and join a dynamic community of forward-thinking Deans and Directors from University Colleges and Undergraduate Studies from across the country. When you join AD&D, you experience a vibrant community, essential tools, and exceptional learning that will enhance every aspect of your professional development.

Vibrant Community

At AD&D, fellow members will serve as your most valuable resources. As a member, you will be connected to a peer network of individuals representing other University College and Undergraduate Studies programs. Our members share lessons learned and best practices while also assisting each other with their day-to-day challenges.

AD&D Members connect via our member-only lists, social media pages, directly via the member directory, and in-person conferences.

Essential Tools

As a member of AD&D, you will also discover the vast array and convenience of resources exclusively available to the association's members including:

- Online Directory – AD&D gives you direct access to your industry peers
- e-Newsletter – As a member, you will receive the regularly issued e-Newsletters to stay abreast of what's happening in the Association and with other University Colleges and Undergraduate Studies programs
- Membership Discounts – As an AD&D member, you will receive discounts on our Annual Conference and other programs.

Exceptional Learning

AD&D delivers extraordinary educational opportunities at its Annual Conference. Curious minds come together to explore new tools and approaches that help attendees not only deal with their day-to-day challenges but provides the resources and information needed to take them to higher levels within their institutions.

Membership in AD&D will help you keep informed of recent trends and critical issues to ensure your organization's and your continued success.
